

UL Underwriter Laboratories Inc.

An independent body that tests and certifies product safety in the USA. If products are approved by UL, the product manufacturer's production processes are regularly monitored. UL (1950/60950) recognized, only applies to UL-certified components.

UL (508) listed

CSA Canadian Standard Association

Independent Canadian testing organisation for ensuring product safety

c UL us und c UR us

Combined approval awarded by Underwriters Laboratories Inc. for both the Canadian and US markets, whereby UL stands for a certified system and UR for a component.

c CSA us

Combined approval awarded by the Canadian Standards Association for both the Canadian and US markets

CE

This is a mark which the product manufacturer is responsible for applying to the product to indicate that it complies with all the applicable European regulations. The manufacturer produces a certificate of conformity for the marked device concerned. This lists the regulations and standards that have been complied with.